Remarks:

1. If the title of the doctoral thesis is written in a foreign language, a Japanese translation should be added.
2. In the case of a co-authored publication, all of the author names must be included in the order in which they appear in the publication.
3. The method of listing must comply with the posting rules of the Journal of Veterinary Medical Science (JVMS): refer to the example for details. The abbreviation for the name of a European-language journal must follow the description of Medline (PubMed), Web of Science, or Scopus. In addition, the Journal of the Japan Veterinary Medical Association must be listed as the "JVMA Journal."
